The Manufacture of Drunkards an Inverted Industry.

Mrs. Harrison Lee in an address thus speaks of the liquor traffic as an inverted industry.

"The liquor traffic is an inverted industry. She had just visited a woolen mill and seen the whole process of making wool into blankets. She went into one shed and there were the dirty, filthy, evil-smelling sheep skins. She went to where they were taking the wool off the skins and cleaning it. Still further on they were beginning to make it look like piles of billowy snow. She went on to where they made the soft, fleecy wool into fabrics, and on to the last room, where piles of beautiful, snowy blankets were waiting to be sent to the finest homes in the land. As she looked at the beautiful blankets ready for use, she said to the manufacturer: 'Do you mean to say you made these out of wool as dirty as filthy and greasy as that you showed me in the shed out there?' and he said, 'Even so.' The woolen industry works up, the best is at the last. But the liquor traffic steps into a man's home and lays its blighting hand on the most precious thing in that home. The touch is laid on a little child and there is a mark left; there is a mark left, and the young man begins to be smothered and marked, and the liquor traffic goes on working destruction. At last we have the finished work of the saloon—the dirty, evil-looking, evil-smelling drunkard of the city streets, and as we look on we say, was ever this poor degraded wreck of manhood a little, beautiful, dimpled baby? 'Even so.' The liquor traffic has worked down and this is its finished product."

The barns of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warner, of Cornwall, were struck by lightning Tuesday morning and consumed together with the contents, consisting of hay, all the chickens, two cows, and a sheep. The insurance is small.

Midshipman Lucius Kimball, the hero of the accident to the United States warship Georgia, it at his home in Bratboro to pass a furlough of one month. Kimball has nearly recovered from the injuries which he received in the accident, but still has burns on his face which have not entirely healed.

Another consignment of tainted cheese has been received at the state laboratory of hygiene, Burlington, for analysis from Brandon, where the cheese has caused much sickness. Samples of the same cheese were recently sent to the laboratory from Sudbury where people who ate it were threatened with ptomaine poisoning. The cheese was made in a factory in Ira.

Mrs. Nancy W. Holden, widow of Robert B. Holden, died Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Mason, in North Clarendon, where she has resided several years. She was 90 years old. Mrs. Holden was born in Shrewsbury and had passed most of her life there. Her husband died many years ago. She leaves beside Mrs. Mason one other daughter, Mrs. John J. Lincoln, of Waltham, Mass.

Entertained Bennington Lodge.

Twenty-six members of Wallomac Lodge, N. E. O. P., attended the reception given by Cascade Lodge of North Adams to grand and supreme officers Tuesday night. Supreme Vice Warden Frank A. Rice of Cambridge, Supreme Secretary D. M. Frye of Somerset, Grand Vice Warden Arthur M. Willis of Melrose, District Deputy Grand Warden W. K. Bedford of Pittsfield, Deputy Grand Guide Frank Larkin of Pittsfield, District Deputy Grand Warden Emily A. Marsden of Bennington were present. Beside those there were thirty from Otis and Elgin lodges of Pittsfield, fifty from Greylock and Berkshire lodges of Adams and thirty from Hoosac and Tunnel City lodges of North Adams.

After the installation by the degree team of Cascade lodge, of three members and one application sent in, remarks were made by the visiting supreme and grand officers on the growth and prosperity of the organization.

Arthur M. Willis, W. K. Bedford and Frank Larkin rendered several vocal selections which were well received. Ice cream and cake were served. The Bennington delegation left at 10:15 after receiving three rousing cheers from Cascade lodge. The members came home feeling well repaid for their visit.

It is being assumed of a large delegation from that part of the order on the 16th of August when Wallomac lodge will entertain them at a picnic in the Soldiers' Home grove.

Montpelier School Teachers.

Montpelier, Aug. 3.—Miss Lucia Hadley of Burlington, for the past five years assistant in the kindergarten department of the city schools, has been made superintendent in the place of Miss Alice Beckwith, who resigned recently to take up a similar position in Florence, Mass.

Miss Hadley has won countless friends among the townspeople since her coming here and has proved a most efficient teacher in this department.

Miss Charlotte Shipman, who has taught in the kindergarten for the past two years, will take the position of first assistant vacated by Miss Hadley. This makes the list of teachers in the public schools for the coming year practically complete. The board has some one in view for the position of teacher of music which Miss Wilmarth superintended last year but no offer has been made as yet.

Released From Agreement.

Rutland, Aug. 3.—The local dealers of second class liquor licenses have been notified by the board of license commissioners that they are released from an agreement which they were made to sign at the time they received their licenses. The agreement restrained the licensees from selling malt liquors by the case or in bulk and from bottling such liquors on their premises.

Quiet Follows the Attacks of Korean Soldiers on the Japanese.

Seoul, Aug. 3.—A battalion of Korean troops Thursday mutinied against the emperor's order of disarmament, refused to deliver their arms, and engaged the Japanese troops with rifle and machine guns.

According to the latest accounts sixty Koreans and forty Japanese were killed and wounded.

The fighting has ceased. The American consulate was struck by several of the bullets, but no foreigners were injured.

The city is apparently safe at the present time.

Constantinople.

Constantinople, called by the Turks Stamboul or Istamboul, was originally the ancient city of Byzantium. In 330 B. C. the Emperor Constantine made it the capital of the Roman empire and called it after his own name. The city lies on an arm of the sea called the Golden Horn and is protected by a great wall built by the Byzantine emperors.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpelide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpelide." Besides, Herpelide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpelide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpelide is an indispensable toilet requisite.

It contains no grease, it will not stain the face. Sold by leading druggists. Sample, in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

AGED WOMAN IN COURT.

Said Her Name Was Agnes Gibson—Pleads Guilty.

Burlington, Aug. 3.—A woman well advanced in years named Agnes Gibson was arraigned in city court yesterday on the charge of intoxication. She was fined $5 and costs of $6.97 upon her plea of guilty and as she was unable to pay she will have to serve 10 days in the Chittenden county jail. Money was not the only thing she lacked. She has no friends or relatives about and apparently has not much to eat. About the only thing of sizeable proportions about her when she was arrested was her jaw. She says she is from Troy, N. Y., and that she has been endeavoring to go to Manchester, N. H. It seemed to be a case of hard luck and love of liquor.

Edward Parsons was fined $3 and costs of $6.97 for intoxication in city court yesterday. He paid up. Isadore Bisset was fined $5 and costs of $8.55 for breach of the peace and he also paid. His breach of the peace consisted of "braiding up" to Officer George M. Farrington when the latter was arresting Parent.

The month of July was an unusually large one in Burlington city court, there having been 53 cases brought before Judge Mower.

These cases are classified as follows: Intoxication, 20; prosecutions for illegal handling of liquor, 12; breach of the peace, 11; perjury, 2; automobiles violating speed limit, 2; truancy, 1; larceny, 1; maintenance in office, 1; violating curfew law, 1; arson, 1; licensed druggist not reporting sales, 1.

There were imposed fines and costs to the sum of $394.55, which if not a particularly large amount, as there were many cases in which the respondents were bound over or received discharged sentences while a few were discharged.

NEW YORK'S NIGHT COURT.

338 Cases Disposed of at the First Sitting.

New York, Aug. 3.—New York's new night police court, after a toilsome opening, was able to close its doors on time at 3 a. m. yesterday, with 338 cases disposed of and not a prisoner left.

Police Commissioner Bingham, with his deputies, Hanson and Arthur Wood, the new appointees, who hail from Boston, were present to view the scene in their official capacities.

Former Magistrate Whitman, now a judge of general sessions, donned his old magistracy's robe again to open the court, and assuming his old authority sent a keen pace in the hearing of cases by disposing of 62 cases in the first hour.

Magistrate House took the next half hour, but retired at 10:40 o'clock, as he holds court at 8 a. m.

Magistrate Barlow, who followed him, heard the rest of the cases, save one, that Magistrate Wahl took aside in a sort of overflow court at a side desk, and a consignment of 30 women prisoners, who were heard in another room.

The result of all this expedition was that when old Mary Lyons came up for her fortnightly sentence to the workhouse, on the stroke of 3, she was the last of the line of the 338 prisoners. Court closed in triumph, with the magistrate and Bridge Officer Tom Foley smiling through their yawns at a night's work well done.

SAVINGS BANKS PROSPEROUS.

New Hampshire Institutions Report the Largest Total Resources.

Concord, N. H., Aug. 3.—The annual returns of the savings banks of New Hampshire to the board of bank commissioners show the largest total resources in the history of New Hampshire banks amounting to $91,840,357.39. The total number of depositors June 30 was 183,243, an increase of 8,767, and the average amount due each depositor is $442.72. It distributed among the entire population of the state, the average deposit for each person would be $197.49. The amount of dividends paid during the year was $2,629,514.44, an increase of $233,873.85. The assets show a marked increase of home investors.

The retired merchant was looking over his old ledgers.

"What satisfaction does that afford you?" asked the caller.

"A heap," he answered. "When somebody calls me an old skindink and a miser it does me good to look at the unpaid accounts of my forty years in business and reflect that I've given away in my time, without counting interest, $27,491.96."—Chicago Tribune.
